

How Matsui helped Kaysun put production through the roof

"Matsui's faster drying times have doubled our drying capacity."

*Bruce Wendt, President, Kaysun Corp.,
Manitowoc, WI*

Kaysun, a contract manufacturer of sunroof components, plus hi-tech products for the military, medical and many other industries, needed a smart solution to increase drying capacity.

"Our first Matsui dryers were installed in the mid 90's," Bruce explains. "We have completely phased out a competitor's dryers and consider Matsui our only supplier for drying solutions."

"We continually look for ways to reduce waste," Bruce continues.

"Faster drying times, smaller footprint and less downtime are all ingredients to our successful waste reduction effort. Matsui has been an integral component to our success."
